DETAILED ACTION

Double Patenting

1. Claims 1-49 are rejected under the judicially created doctrine of obviousness-type double patenting as being unpatentable over claims 1-34 of U.S. Patent No. 6,206,373. Although the conflicting claims are not identical, they are not patentably distinct from each other because in the present application the claimed step of "wherein the rank of the hands is determined using a first number of cards, wherein said at least one common card plus said at least one card dealt to said player is equal to said first number" is a broad and vague recitation of defining the number of cards used by a player. It does not recite any physical step the players must perform.

2. The nonstatutory double patenting rejection is based on a judicially created doctrine grounded in public policy (a policy reflected in the statute) so as to prevent the unjustified or improper timewise extension of the "right to exclude" granted by a patent and to prevent possible harassment by multiple assignees. See In re Goodman, 11 F.3d 1046, 29 USPQ2d 2010 (Fed. Cir. 1993); In re Longi, 759 F.2d 887, 225 USPQ 645 (Fed. Cir. 1985); In re Van Ornum, 686 F.2d 937, 214 USPQ 761 (CCPA 1982); In re Vogel, 422 F.2d 438, 164 USPQ 619 (CCPA 1970); and, In re Thorington, 418 F.2d 528, 163 USPQ 644 (CCPA 1969).

A timely filed terminal disclaimer in compliance with 37 CFR 1.321(c) may be used to overcome an actual or provisional rejection based on a nonstatutory double patenting ground provided the conflicting application or patent is shown to be commonly owned with this application. See 37 CFR 1.130(b).

Effective January 1, 1994, a registered attorney or agent of record may sign a terminal disclaimer. A terminal disclaimer signed by the assignee must fully comply with 37 CFR 3.73(b).

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

3. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

Art Unit: 3711

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

4. Claims 1-3, 5, 6, 10-15, 17-32, 35-39, 41-49 rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Cauda.

The patent to Cauda discloses a method of playing a blackjack card game. To play Cauda's game each player places a wager, 3, 5. Each player is dealt a hand comprising at least one card. The dealer is dealt a card, and at least one common card 4 is dealt. The common card is common to the dealer to each of the player, see col. 5, lines 44-47. The common card must be used by each player and the dealer. The game is then played in the conventional manner of Blackjack, col. 6, line 23. Thus, the dealer may be dealt another card. At least one of the dealer's cards is dealt face up, col. 6, lines 2-3. Thus, the dealer's face up card is a specified first card having a predetermined known value. It is possible for this face up card to be a queen. During game play, the player is given the option to raise the wager by doubling down, col. 6, lines 12-20. Players have the option to also fold "bust" or stay in the game without increasing the wager, col. 1, lines 31-47. The dealer's hand is compared to each players' hand, and a player wins if the player's hand is higher (blackjack 21 or closer to 21) than the dealer's hand according to a determined ranking of hands (blackjack, 21, 20, 19, etc.). A winning player receive a first return on at least a portion of the wager, one-to-one payout, col. 6, lines 63-68. A winning player receives a second return on at least a portion of the wager, one and one-half to one payout if the player receive a blackjack, col. 6, line 69 to col. 7, line 2. Cauda's invention is also readily adaptable to an electronic gaming device, col. 7, lines 14-15. Thus, this electronic gaming device would inherently have a display, computing means, player input means, interface means and a storage device for storing instructions.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

5. The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

6. Claims 1-19 and 30-43 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

In claims, 1, 13, 30 and 37, the recitation and similar recitations "wherein the rank of the hands is determined using a first number of cards, wherein said at least one common card plus said at least one card dealt to said player is equal to said first number" is vague and indefinite. Correction is required.

Allowable Subject Matter

7. Claims 4, 7-9, 16, 33, 34 and 40 would be allowable if rewritten to overcome the rejection(s) under 35 U.S.C. 112, 2nd paragraph, set forth in this Office action and to include all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.
